IN WALL-ST. -THE ACCUSED DISCHARGED. On Saturday afternoon the examination in the case of Mr. Frunk Hellen, the banker and broker of No. 9 Wail-st.. who, on the 31st ult., presented for redemption at the Sub-

Treasury in this city eight coupons cut from the same number of $5,000 bonds, a portion of those stolen from Mr. Rufus L. Lord of No. 38 Exchange place, in March last, came up before Justice Dowling at the Tombs Police Court. The case has already been reported at length in The Therene.

Ex-Gev. Lowe, one of the comes for the defense, referred to Barbour's Reports, Sepreme Court, page 443, vol. 34, as showing the principle upon which the case turned—Jodge lagranham giving his opinion that where a party takes a corpon or commercial paper in open market for value received, he may be guilty of aegilgence, if due dillagence would have informed him of defect of title. Raffiel agt, the Bank of England, page 276, Law end Equity, English reports was also cited, to prove that a persen entitled to a note received in good faith for value could not be impeached for negligence. Notice of the robbery had been served upon the plaintiff, but had not been seen by him. The English Law and Equity Reports, volume 33, was citted, where six Hank of England notes of £5,000 each were stolen. In 1833 notice was given to St. Paul's banking firm in Paris. Soon after one of the notice was presented and cashed, the banker falling to look at the notice. The Judge decided that net attending to the notice made it negligence, but was not evidence to affect the title. Counsel contended that, although a list of the stolen funds had been left at the office of the accused, there was no evidence to although all.

Mr. Genning S. Bedford. Assistant District Attorney, ad-

Mr. Genning S. Bedford. Assistant District Attorney, admitted that the law was good, but that it only applied to negotiable paper.

Mr. J. Elliott, the pariner of the accused, testified that on the day on which the coupons were purchased he was in and out of the office considerably; thought he was either engaged in writing or was out when the coupons were purchased by Mr. Hellen; did not know saything about the negotiation, the outsion in the office is, if there is a large amount of cash in the drawer the hills are paid in notes. If not, paid in checks. [Book handed to witness,] This book is a rough daybook; it is the book of first entries; the person who makes the transaction makes the entries; the person who makes the transaction makes the entries; I made entries on the 31st October. Q. In whose handwriting is the entry of the eight coupons! A. That is in Mr. Hellen's handwriting; after the 31st October care was taken set to the public notices were handed witness of stoken notes and bonds. All these were hanging up in our office; the Lord bond notice was not hanging up in the office had not seen it before the 31st October; that was the first time! I knew of the Lord bond robber; corrected and windows were altered about the latter part of last month; those notices might have been torn dewn, as there was a great deal of dirt removed.

Cross-examined—The gross amounts were entered in other books, not the entries; knew Mr. Lord lost some bonds prior to October 31, but had no notice of it; have bought coupons from transgers; never referred to the laste ostop on seel if it was Mr. Berd's; the notices have been hung up three or four weeks.

Charles M. Dennison, specie clerk in the employ of White, Morrison & Co., brokers and bankers at No. 29 Wall-st., testified and the part of the coupons with the stolen oase on the lists and buy them the same as specie; about November 1st there was a large increase in business; the Government pay their semi-annual interest and there is a great rush of compons into the market; if w

Miss Julia Irving deposed that there were six persons in the stage before Mrs. Kendall and herself entered, as near as she could recollect; three opposite to her and three on the right side, the lady who saf in the corner on the right side, and another, who sat next to Mrs. Kendall, got out of the stage. She says: I thit not observe them particularly; there were only Mrs. Kendall. Mr. Gale sand myself on the same side; Mr. Gale sat by the door opposite to Mrs. Moore; I sat opposite Mr. Williams; Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Fair were the only persons on the opposite side; had observed Mr. Williams; Mrs. door and Mrs. Fair were the only persons on the opposite side; had observed Mr. Williams; Mrs. Kendail Mr. Gale and myself on the same side; Mr. Gale sat by the door opposite to Mrs. Moore; I sat opposite Mr. Williams; Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Fair were the only persons on the opposite side; had observed Mr. Williams; Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Fair were the only persons on the opposite side; had observed Mr. Williams; I noticed his necktie, by which I thought he was a clergyman; I noticed his necktie, by which I thought he was a clergyman; I noticed has be sat sidewise in the stage, fronting the driver; he seemed to be looking ahead of him before the occurrence took place; he did not speak to any of the passengers; the movement of the dress attracted my attention; I don't recollect if I looked at him particularly before that; I was not supplicious of him in til I saw the dress undone. I spoke of it to my auat as soon as I saw him place the peoket-book in his pocket; I said that man opposite has taken that lady's pocket-book; did not say, he has pulled that lady's pocket, I was not much agitated at the time. The whole affair did not seem to last over two seconds; I at once consluded that he had picked the lady's pocket; I did not see his kand under her skirt; it was at the side; I do not know of my own knowledge that Mr. Williams's hand under her skirt, it was at the side; I do not know of my own knowledge that Mr. Williams's cut the lady's pocket and took the purse cut. I do not know of my own knowledge that be did not take the purse off the seat, under the seat-folds of Mrs. Moore's dress. all I know is, that he took his hand from under her dress, and put the pocket-book in his pocket; I did not see Mr. Williams throw anything out of the window; when he withdrew his hand with the portmonnance he did not put it in his breaches pocket. beat the time he took the purse his left am was leaning upon the window; the left hand communicate with the right; I saw an attempt at pocket-picking before; I did not see his hand go up under the skirt of Mrs. Moore's dress; I assisted Mrs. Kendali in holding him by the skirt of his day, the 21st just. SONS OF OUR SLAIN PATRIOTS. The Institution founded by Col. and Mrs. Young at Deposit, Delaware County, in this State, for the purpose of gratnitously educating the sons of deceased soldiers, has been emoved from the country, and is now located at the corner of Fifst-are and Seventy-sixth-st.

Application was made by the friends of this enterprise to the Legislature last winter for public aid, accompanied by the report of a committee appointed by the State Military Association to investigate the claims of the Institution. This committee recommended that a suitable building be purchased by the State, and clothing and rations be furnished by the State, and such other configurates as may be necessary, and a reasonable sum to pay clothing and rations be furnished by the State, and such other squipments as may be necessary, and a reasonable sum to pay competent teachers; that a board of education of trustees be appointed by the Governor (not less than three or more than five), whose duty it stail be to locate said building for said school, and said Board shall have power to appoint one General Superintendent of said school, and one Quartermaster, with rank of cuptain, who shall issue, on the order of the Board, such clothing, rations, &c., to said cudots as shall be directed by said directors or trustees.

cletting, rations, &c., to said cadets as shall be directed by said directors or trustees.

The school is now in the fourth year of its operation, and has been supported wholly by private contributions, and man continue to be so sustained until it can be brought before the State entherlies and there force its claim on the public for recognition and and. Since the transfer of me institution to this city, a mainter of our philanthropic citizens have come to the sustaines of Col. Young and a temporary organization has been effected, whereof Mr. Remry R. Comkin. Secretary of the Market Savings Bank. No. 27 Nussan at. It Treasurer, to whom contributions, in aid of this poble charity may be made, in order that the children now in the school, and others hereafter to be saimtired may be provided until a permanent organization under a State charter shall be consummated, and founds be appropriated for their use in the work of chemical of the Nation.

Undoubtedly the support and education of these orphans of tions are erecting model hospitals on Blackwell's Island for those persons under their care and guardinaship who are afflicted with epileptic and paralytic diseases. The buildings are to be on the most approved plan of hospital construction. By way of experiment, four buildings are to be creeted, three of which are already near completion. The work is not done by contract, but is being performed solely by the labor of the inmates of the Lunatic Asylum on the Island, under the superintendence of the Warden, who is biasself a builder and capable of directing the progress of the work. Dr. M. Gounzies Echoverria, the Visiting Surgeon and Physician (whose services are voluntarily rendered), will have the entire care and practical management of the Hospital for Epileptics and Farmitics. Each building will be one story high, and 36 feet wide by 100 feet in length, and comprise all the essentials to hospital convenience and the comfort of the patients.

When the Medical Board of Carrity Hospital was created it was questionable whether, in view of the number of institutions committed to its care and their distance from the city, the namber of visiting physicians was adequate to the performance of unities assigned to them. The experience of the last six months seems to have demonstrated that it is impracticable for the present number of physicians to give, with a proper regard to their private practice, so large a share of their stiention to the hespital that between the 21st of Marck and the 23d of October of the current year, 216 days, there have been 103 visits of physicians to that institution, and that for thirteen periods of three days each and one of five days during that time there were no visits. It is stated that no visits have been made at the Almibouse or Infant Department since October 1.

It was the intention of the Commissioners to have placed the Hospital for Epileptics and Paralytics in charge of Dr. Echeverria, who consented to give his continuous attention to them for the imperiod and the product of th

On Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Lieut.-Gen. W. T. Sherman and the Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, Minister to Mexico, embarked on board the United States steam frigate Susquehanns, bound for Mexico.

After having made a few business calls the General, accompanied by Gea. Butterfield and Coi. Andenreid of his staff, left the Metiopolitan Hotel in a carriage and proceeded to Pier No. I. North River, where a large number of the friends and admirers of the General were withing his arrival. As the carriage drove up to the pier the General was cheered by the people, the indies waving their handkerchiefs and expressing their delight in various ways. After waiting some time it was ascertained that there was a mistake somewhere. In a few minutes a messenger arrived from Minister Campbell informing the General that he was waiting for him at the Harge office pier, foot of Whitehall-st. The party crossed the battery, and on arriving at the dock were met by Surveyor Waleman and Messrs. Benedict and Van Brunt of the Custom House. The Surveyor had tendered the party the use of the Revenue Cutter Jessamine, commanded by Captain Pearson of the Revenue cutter Jessamine, commanded by Captain Pearson of the Revenue service. Everything on board the cutter was as used as war. When the party were all on hoard, the little vessel was quite crowded. The tride being quite low there was a used as war. When the party were all on hoard, the little vessel was quite crowded. The tride being quite low there was onesiderable trouble in getting on board the cutter, particularly for the ladies; no secident, however, happened. There was now considerable shaking of bands as the boat was ready to start. When the boat started from the dock cheer after cheer was given for the distinguished party. On reaching the Seadulant of the dock cheer after cheer was given for the distinguished party of nearly of the counter, the General and Minister Campbell proceeded on board. He suffered all imaginable in jury and persecutions, was imprisoned for opinion's aske and condemned to die. He was most active in various good works. He denounced slavery, and was before Howard in prison reform, and the first to oppose war. He died at the age of 67. He rose at a time of great conflict. The buman heart had risen against the tyranny of kings, priesteraft, and every form of evil. When we consider the corruption of the priesthood at that time we can see why George Fox protested against it with more fervor than we perhaps could commend. He did not claim For as a Universalist, our pointed out some things in his writings to indicate this and said that the Hicksite Quakers, who are Universalists, claim to be his legitimate, historical followers. The speaker said Fox must have had the gift of prophecy to some extent, else he could not have foretoid what was to happen so often and truly. The fruits of the spirit, were remarkably exemplified in his life.

SALE OF RARE AMERICAN BOOKS. The sale, by auction, of the private collection of old and rare American books of Mr. T. K. Morrell, bookseller, was completed on Saturday evening, after three days sales, at the rooms of Bangs, Merwin & Co., No. 634 Broadway. The sale was a highly successful one, the attendance being large on each day, and the bidding exceedingly spirited. Mr. Morrell must have realized nearly 80,000 from his little library of a thousand volumes. Among the many rare and valuable antiquities of Amorican bookmaking in the collection were: "The Cow Chuse. In Three Cantos. Written in the year 1780, by Major John Andre, Adjutant-General to the British Army in North America. See weeks previous to his capture by the Americans. New York: Printed in the year 1789. This brought 80. Four volumes of the old History of Virginia of John Bark, published at Petersburg, Va., 1804-103-16, the fourth volume being exceedingly rare, nearly every copy laving been destroyed by fire, was sold for $100. A unique copy of Murray's searce cition of Byrog's "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage," bound up with over 200 fine and scarce portraits, views, and vignettes, including a complete set of the wood-cuts engraved for the London Art Union, Finden's Beanties of Byrou, etc., brought $70. A copy of the very rare "Demonstration of True Love unto You, the Rulers of the Colony of the Massachusetts in New-England," etc., "written by one who was once in sultority with them, but always testified against their porsecuting Spirit, who am call'd William Coddington of Road-Island," printed in London, 1644, trought $40. One hundred dollars was paid for Coiden's 'History of the Fire Indian Nations Depending on the Province of New-York in America." This is one of the first histories of New-York witten sand published in this city being printed and sold by Wm. Bradford in New-York in 1727, and is one of the four perfect copies known to exist. New York, Nov. 8, 1966.

To the Bare-Ball Clubs of the Carren States Notice is hereby given that the regular annual meeting of the National Association of Sase-Ball Players will be held on Monday, Dec. 13, 1866, at 3 of clock p. m., at Cinton Hall (Astorplace), New York City.

From the large number of applications already received by the Sacretary from all parts of the country, this meeting promises to be the largest and most interesting of any preceding one. Delegates will oblige by being prompt in their attendance at 3 of clock p. m., applied with their credentials. Clubs desirous of becoming members, who, from any cause, have neglected to give the thirty days notice, by sending their application, signed by the Freedent and Secretary, they will be received by the Secretary and duly laid before the meeting, and without doubt they will be admitted to membership. Let no cloth that is eligible, who have and feed an interest in the continued and wide-spread popularity of our national game, and who play under the roise of the Association, full to whice their appreciation of the Association (from which emmants the laws governing the game) by not claiming the honor of enrolling themselves an one of its manubers. A very fine certificate of membership has been procured for clubs belonging to the Association. Glubs in New York and Brooklyn on obtain them on order from their President at the office of the Secretary N. A. B. C. Fost-Office Box No. 6,718.

INTERESTING MATCHES TO-MORROW. Among the interesting games yet to be played is the one between the Eolectic Club of New-York and the Mohawk Club of Brooklyn, which is to take place to morrow at Hoboken. Each party having won a game this is to be the test match, and some good play may be expected. Another game likely to excite considerable attention takes place on the Union Baill Grounds, Brooklyn to morrow, it being the return "Theatrical Match," between the actors of the Oid and New Bowery Theaters. The players will consist only of the members of the corps dramatique of the two establishments, and as they are all novices in the game another amusing contest will be the result no doubt. The triant and the Dwarf of the Old Bowery are to "jut in an appearance," we understand, as base-ball players on the occasion. As the contestants have to be at their posts early the game will begin at 1-p. m. and close at 4:30.

CRICKET.

CLOSING GAMES OF THE CRICKET CLUBS. Should the Indian Summer weather, we have had Should the Indian Summer weather, we have had the past week, continue, our Cricket Clubs will no doubt take advantage of it to play their annual international games of cricket and base-ball with the leading ball clubs. Last week, the St. George Club had their ball match with the Union Club, the latter, of course, winning by a score of 52 to 23. The most prominent of these encounters hitherto, has been the meeting between the New-York Cricket Club and the Eagle Base Ball Club. This has litherto been a very enjoyable day's play, the morating being devoted to cricket and the afternoon to base ball, a dinner at noon being the festure, as John Bull, you know, can't do anything "without his dinner. The Empires have generally fraterhized with the Manhattan Cricket Club, and the Excelsiors with the Willow Club of Brooklyn. No doubt, the fine day's of the present week will be taken advantage of by the above clubs for a friendly day's play.

PROFESSOR FAVARGER'S LECTURE. - The lecture of Professor Favarger on Friday evening in the Chapel of the Theological Seminary was attended by an intelligent and highly appreciative audience. It was devoted to an explanation of a new method of teaching the French language, founded on philosophical principles, and admirably adapted to practical uses. According to Professor Favarger's system, the education of the ear and the vocal organs is the primary object to be aimed at in gaining the mastery of a foreign tongue. In the first instance, gaining the mastery of a foreign tongue. In the first instance, we should follow the natural method by which children learn their native language. Nature first teaches the child to comprehend the words which are addressed to it in the prattle of the nursery she begins with training the ear to the meaning of sounds, by dint of incessant repetition she impresses the susceptible organ with the sense of familiar words; thus the child hears and understands before it begins to speak; the vocal organs are then brough into regular play; the child learns to talk; the process is completed by insensible degrees; and at length the little pupil in the grand high school of nature is prepared for the crowning achievement of learning to read. Precisely the same method should be pursued in the acquisition of a new language. First in order, accustom the ear to the strange sounds. Then exercise the vocal organs. In the beginning all will seem a Hable of confusion. But go on without cessation. Soon matters will clear up. Order will be evolved from chaos. Ready mental associations will be formed with the foreign sounds, which after all are only strange symbols for familiar ideas. The pupil's ear will be educated. He will recognize at once the words which he hears spoken. The instinct of initiation soon enables him to pronounce, as he hears the teacher pronounce. He is now prepared to commence with books, to learn the structure of the language, to enlarge and rectify his vocabulary, to know by sight the words and phrases with which his ear has already become familiar. He learns to speak first, afterward to read. The usual process is the reverse of this. Hence a host of scholars, who read French as well as they read English, but who can neither understand what is said to tem, nor seek at a way do in reply. Professor Favarger makes no war Hence a host of scholars, who read French as well as they read English, but who can neither understand what is said to them, nor speak a word in reply. Professor Favarger makes no war on other systems. He explains what he deems the method of nature with great simplicity and modesty. But we may add our own conviction that the process which he sets forth is effectual at the very point at which the more usual methods break down. It is equally natural, philosophical, and practical. A working knowledge of a foreign language may be thus obtained in a few months, which the mere study of books could not impart in as many years. We assure our countrymen who are bound to Paris in the coming season that a practical acquaintance with this system will prove one of the most valuable portions of their outfit.

TRIAL OF A COMBINATION HOSE .- On Saturday TRIAL OF A COMBINATION HOSE.—On Saturday afternoon there was a trial of patent combination hose, on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's dock, foot of Canal-st., under the supervision of W. W. Vanderbilt, General Superintendent of Huils and Machinery. The invention was patented by Benedict & Torry, and is constructed in the following manner: the inner tube of the hose is made of gutta percha, and next to it is a layer of air-prod rubber. On this is wound layers of heavy cotton dack, made expressly for the purpose, coated on both sides with rubber. The gutta percha tube alone will endare aimest as much pressure as a copper tupe of the same dissensions, and will not decompose by the action of five steam, water, oils or alkalies. The "air stock" prevents the fine particles of water from reaching the cotton duck, and thereby rotting it. The outer coating for ordinary use is rubber, but, if necessary, the conting may consist of rubber and gutta percha. The couplings and clamps are of peculiar construction, in order that they may stand an extraordinary pressure. The first test was through three lengths of 2½ inch hose, each 25 feet in length the nozzle of the pipe being 14 inch. The hose was attached to one of Woodward's largest steamp-pumps. The engine from which the pump was worked generally carries 40 pounds of steam, but in this instance it was increased to 112 pounds. It required the utmost exertions of six meen to hold the pipe, so great was the force of water. A patent nozzle, of cylinder shape, was now applied to test its strength. When the pressure had reached 300 pounds the brain strength was made to burst the hose to it was impossible. During the trial the exterior of the hose was as dry as a bone. It is particularly adapted to the mee of steamers in the tropies, as it is impervious to heat. The Navy Department have appointed a board of officers to test its merits at the Brockyn Navy Yard, the rubber hose having been condemned as unfit in wara climates. All the steamers of the Pacific Mail Company are to b fternoon there was a trial of patent combination hose, on the INSPECTION OF DOCKS AND PIERS.-At the late ession of the Legislature, a committee was appointed by the session of the Legislature, a committee was appointed by the Semate in accordance with the following resolution:

Resolved, That a special committee of five he appointed to sit during the treess of the Legislature, and to take testimory, and to impair as to the condition of the piers, wharves, buildheads and slips in the sides of New York and Brooklyn, and as to the ownership and occupation thereof; and as to the rates of wharfage charged for the use thereof, and as to such other matters as to the sid committee may seem meet, and report at the next session of the Legislature, provided that the said committee sit and perform the duty hereby committed to it, without recompense, and without expense of any kind to the State.

astunday held an inquest at No. 474 Canal-st, on the body of 3hhn Lewis Sownal, aged 7 years. From the evidence it would appear that on Thursday last deceased attempted tocross Westst, near Beach-st, in front of a truck driven by Daniel Kenel, he was struck by one of the horses, fell, and the fore wheel of the truck passed over his body causing almost instant death. At the time of the accident the horses attached to the truck were on a slow walk. The driver did not see the boy before the accident and knew nothing of his danger until called to by Officer Green of the Fifth Precinct. He at once stopped his team, but the late to avert the catastrophe. A verdict of accidental death was rendered by the jury. The driver was exonerated from blame.

RELIEF OF SUFFERERS BY THE INUNDATIONS IN FIANCE.-During the past Summer whole districts of country berdering on the principal rivers of France have been inundated. securing on the principal rivers of crace has considered as easing unpersilied destruction of property, and in some instances aweeping away entire villages. By this visitation thousands of poor people have been rendered houseless, and in some localities whole populations are on the verge of starvation. Baron Boilleau, the Consul-General of France, has opened a subscription at the Consulate, No. 2 Bowling Green, for the relief of these unfortunate people.

MEETING OF THE JOURNEYMEN GILDERS .- A special meeting of the Journeymen Gilders was held on Saturday evening last, at Military Hall, No. 193 Bowery. This trade has evening asst, at Multary Haal, No. 193 Bowery. This trade has been on a strike since the 1st inst., and the object of the meeting was to receive, from those who had already got work at the inaceased rate—35 cents an hour—contributions of the increase of two cents an hour, to enable those on the strike to hold out till the shops refusing the advance succumbed. The sum of £147.57 was handed in by representatives from the shops of New-York and Brooklyn, after which the Committee appointed for the purpose proceeded to distribute the money.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE BY DROWNING. -Ellen Johnson. a native of England, aged 20 years, on Saturday night attempt ed to commit suicide by jumping into the North River at the foot of Bank st., having in her arms an infant aged about three months. She was rescued by two sailors attached to the schoner White Swan, lying in the vicinity, and conveyed the Ninth Precinct station-house in Charles-st., where she was detained for the night. Yesterday the unfortunate woman and child were taken before Justice Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, who committed them to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections.

STABBING AFFRAY BETWEEN COLORED MEN. - Early yesterday morning Edward Thompson, colored, residing at No. 42 Thompson-st., quarreled with another colored man, whose real name is unknown, but who bears the cognomen of "Burnmer Charley," and during the affray "Charley" stabbed his opponent in the left breast near the heart, inflicting a very dangerous wound. The assailant then made his escape, and has not been arrested. The injured man was conveyed to the New-York Hospital, where very little hopes are entertained of his

THE BROADWAY NUISANCE.-Laborers were at work Saturday night and yesterday on the track of the Dry Dock and East Broadway Railroad, in front of St. Paul's Church, raising the curve and repairing the pavement. They expect to have the injunction removed during the week.
